1. The Perleberg (N 54/T 70) airfield was still occupied by army troops on 20 and 22 February 1951. No military activity was seen at the field. Only motor vehicles with Soviet Army numbers were seen entering and leaving the field. *
2. On 28 February, no indications of construction work were observed at the field. Soviet Air Force soldiers have been observed recently in the streets of Perleberg.
3. A resident of Suekow, northwest of the airfield, said that surveying had been done in the fields near Suekow about three months ago and that the farms south of the road passing through the village of Suekow were also surveyed. It was assumed by source that these farms would have to be evacuated for the extension of the airfield. The resident also said that certain fields south of the village road had been surveyed and payment of 12,000 eastmarks was made for 20 acres. The resident further said that other farmers, whose fields were south of the road, had been informed that their land was requisitioned without payment. Extension work had allegedly not yet started. **

- * The occupation of the field has apparently not changed. It is not believed that an air force unit is stationed at Perleberg.
-  Plans to enlarge the airfield to the northwest were reported previously. See To date, no construction work has been observed. For location of airfield and confiscated fields, see Annex.
